The following is Senator Faris' Local Option Bill which passed both branches of the Kentucky Legislature. There is no doubt but the Governor will sign the bill:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: Section 1. In an indictment for a violation of any provision of the act approved March 10, 1894, entitled 'An act whereby the sense of the people of any county, city, town, district or precinct may be taken as to whether spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned therein,' or for a violation of any act amendatory thereof, it shall not be necessary to allege that a vote was taken or an election held, or any other step relative thereto; but it may be simply stated that the act or acts charged were committed in a territory where the said act was in force; and in said indictment it shall be sufficient to designate said act as the local option law.

"Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, lend, give, procure for or furnish to another any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or to have in his possession spirituous, vinous or malt liquors for the purpose of selling them in any territory where said act is in force, and any person so offending shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars and imprisoned not less than ten nor more than fifty days.

"The possession of a United States special tax stamp (commonly called United States license) for carrying on the business of a retail dealer in spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or the having of such tax stamp or license stuck up at the place of business in such territory shall be prima facie evidence of guilt under this section.

"Sec. 3. On the second or any subsequent conviction for a violation of said act, or any of its amendments, the court shall require the defendant to execute bond in the sum of two hundred dollars to be of good behavior for the period of twelve months.

The court may, in its discretion, increase the amount of the bond, and if the bond is not given the defendant shall be committed to the county jail for a period not exceeding ninety days to be fixed by the court.

Sec. 4. All the shipments of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors to be paid for on delivery, commonly called 'C. O. D. shipments,' into any county, city, town, district or precinct where said act is in force shall be unlawful and shall be deemed sales of such liquors at the place where the money is paid or the goods are delivered; the carrier and his agents selling or delivering such goods shall be liable jointly with the vendor therefor.

Sec. 5. Section 4 of said act is stricken out, and in lieu thereof the following inserted:

"After the entry of the certificate of the canvassing board as above provided for, in the order-book of the County Court, if the vote was given against the sale, barter, or loan of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors in the said county, city, town, district or precinct, as the case may be, to any person, except as herein after provided; and any person who shall sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly, any such liquors in said county, city, town, district or precinct shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than sixty nor more than one hundred dollars, or be confined in the county jail for not less than ten nor more than forty days, or both so fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court or jury, for each offense; and any person who knowingly furnishes or rents a house, room, wagon or any conveyance or thing in which spirituous, vinous or malt liquors are sold, bartered or loaned, in violation of this act, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than sixty nor more than one hundred dollars, and the house, wagon, vehicle, land or thing in which the liquors were sold, bartered or loaned shall be liable for all fines adjudged against the person selling, bartering or loaning the same."

At Naco, Arizona, Jas. H. Parks killed his wife and then shot himself, and later was shot dead by men who had seen him murder his wife. Jealousy the cause.

At St. Louis, Patrick McGinnis shot and killed his wife and then turned the weapon upon himself and blew his brains out. McGinnis was an habitual drunkard. The couple leave four children.

At Smith Ferry, Ohio, a rock weighing four tons rolled from a hillside into the house of Hardin Walcott through the dining room and into the cellar. The damage to the house was great, but the family escaped unhurt.

Summing up the results of the visit of Prince Henry to this country none of the Berlin newspapers assume that it will have great political consequences, but all agree that it will cause permanent and more kindly feeling between the two people.

At the request of the war department the secretary of the treasury has countermanded the order for the removal of its electric light plant from the Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island, New York harbor, until the war department can make its own arrangements for lighting and caring for the statue.

The most populous street in the world is said to be that in New York, from Amsterdam to West End avenue and from Sixty-first street to Sixty-second. Eight thousand seven hundred human beings, of twenty-six nationalities, of every race, color and creed, are huddled together in five and six story tenements.

A novel sentence was passed upon some youthful offenders at Kearney, N. J. Several boys were charged with breaking open freight cars and destroying property. The Judge sentenced each to "a good hard spanking" as the alternate of a $5 fine. As the parents of the boys chose to let them be spanked two police were called upon and when they finished the boys promised to begood.

There is a social war raging in Chicago packing circles because Mrs. Carter Harrison, wife of the Mayor, attempted to monopolize Prince Henry at the big ball to the exclusion of Mrs. Richard Yates wife of the Governor. The Harrison cohorts got the Prince cornered and kept him until they could hold him no longer, and then the Yates force seized him and bore him away in triumph to the gubernatorial box.

"New Women."

What will the women do next? We have become quite accustomed to the feminine lawyers, the Portias, pleading their clients' cause before a stern-judged judge and a more or less intelligent jury: to the women physicians—and a good thing they are, too, for thousands of their afflicted sisters; while of teachers and college professors the name is legion. But at this beginning of a new century the new woman is so startling new that some of us gasp and some gaze "in awe, in wonder, and amaze."

In Windsor, Canada, a young girl has been for six years an engraver of tombstones. Miss Alice Rigg carves artistic letters upon marble and looks most attractive in her strange occupation.

Kansas is one of several States that boast of a woman undertaker. At a recent State undertaker's convention she said that embalming was an especially lucrative profession for women and that they would find cooperation from the men of the union.

Mrs. Lena Behrens, of Ohio, is a wholesale saddlery dealer. She is a graduate of a school of pharmacy and her knowledge of chemistry was so valuable to her husband in testing metals that she gradually worked into the business. She is now a widow and is sole manager of the large factory.

Women pilots are by no means unknown in America's coast towns. In San Pedro harbor, California, Miss Vincent, formerly of Marblehead, Mass., is a most successful one. Her brothers own a sardine factory and she stepped from housekeeping to piloting with the versatility of the later-day woman. She is making a good living and hopes to rise in her profession.

A canal boat reached Newton creek recently with a woman for its captain.

Mrs. Sarah Straton is a middle aged widow, whose daughters, son and hired man make up her crew. She unloads large cargoes of lumber at a pier near New York City very expeditiously and with no expense outside her family crew.

The patent "military" button that has been adopted by the New York police department was invented by Mrs. Dudley Phelps after five years patent study. It requires no sewing, and is adapted peculiarly to uniforms, having a simple but ingenious clasp.

In Mercer county, Pa., Miss Sylvia Stewart is deputy sheriff to her father. One of several women street car conductors is Miss Lillian De Garmo, who performs regular duties upon a small Long Island line owned by her father. She enjoys the healthful out-of-door life.

An artistic bookbinder is Elizabeth Gearo, of Cleveland, Ohio. She studied with Miss Birkenruth, of London, and does expert designing and illuminating.

The village of Coss Cobb, Conn., has a rare avis, a woman hack driver. Mrs. Eva Ferris likes the work, and makes money. Her husband owns the livery stable and has a monopoly. Her children are nearly grown and she can be spared from household duties.

Mrs. Maria Ferguson, of Los Angeles, Cal., has issued the first Dawson City, Yukon and Alaska directory. The volume contains 900 pages and many valuable mining maps.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has appointed Myra Dock a member of the State forestry commission. She has studied the forestry question in Germany and America and is a valuable addition to the board.

There are 400 women pharmacists in the United States. Some large New England concerns employ women exclusively, believing them to be unusually cautious and trustworthy.

The Harrison cohorts got the Prince cornered and kept him until they could hold him no longer, and then the Yates force seized him and bore him away in triumph to the gubernatorial box.

Charged With Murder.

Bowling Green, Ky., March 11.—W. T. Dial, a handsome young man, and a member of one of the best-known families in Warren county, was arrested here by the local police. His arrest has developed a sensation.

The young man had just deposited $5,000 in bank and had nearly $500 on his person. His arrest was the result of an altercation with a local photographer, but the sensational feature of the case is the fact that the police claim Dial murdered a man in Missouri in 1895.

Dial left here when seventeen years of age. He is now about twenty-five. He went to the Indian Territory where he met an old man who was returning to Kentucky in a wagon. Dial started with him. In Texas county, Mo., near Houston, in October, 1895, the old man was found dead in his wagon. The wagon, with the team, had been standing in one place for several days. Attention was attracted by the constant barking of a dog which belonged to the old man and which had followed him from the Indian Territory.

Dial was missing, and the Missouri officials have since been looking for him. Officers came here once, but Dial could not be found. He only returned recently, bringing between six and seven thousand dollars with him. He wears diamonds and is a swell dresser. Dial has been released from jail and is in charge of a guard, Dial paying $7.50 per day for his attendant's services.

The case of assault, pending information from the Missouri authorities on the more serious charge, was postponed until to-morrow. Dial talked pretty freely and denied the murder charge. His attorney will make an effort to secure his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

How to Get the Roads.

The unique figure in the "good roads world" is State Senator Earle of Detroit. He was at one time connected with the department of good roads inquiries at Washington as an expert, which office he was obliged to relinquish upon his election to the Senate. He has a scheme which if put into practice would soon bring the millennium dawn of good roads, says the Philadelphia North American. In explaining his scheme he said:

"First, I would have the government make good road maps of each county in the United States, showing all the public highways. I would have had roads printed in red, fairly good ones in blue and the improved roads in black. Those would be published in pocket form and sold at 5 cents each at all postoffices. This would in effect compel every farmer to see to it that his road was improved, for he would soon see the advantage of having his farm located on one of the improved roads.

"Second, I would levy a tax of 50 cents on every vehicle in the land. This alone would yield a revenue of several millions. It would furnish all the funds necessary for the purpose. The tax would be a trifle and would be cheerfully paid by most people so long as it was to be devoted to the betterment of highways."

Geo. W. Thurston, colored, a Pullman car porter of New York, will receive the greater part of the estate of Mrs. Eliza Jane Evans, white, valued at from $75,000 to $100,000. Mrs. Evans' will was contested by her divorced husband and relatives. Thurston was the only one to whom she clung during the latter years of her life. When she had been forsaken by her relatives he cared for her and did what he could to administer to her comfort and alleviate her condition. Mrs. Evans was only forty-seven years old when she died, on March 18, 1900. She made minor bequests and left the bulk of her estate to Thurston.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company filed in Clarksburg, W. Va., a mortgage for $75,000,000. The object is to take up all outstanding liens.

The Democrats of Campbell county, Tenn., adopted resolutions strongly condemning Gov. McMillin's action in appointing election commissioners for the county.
